

April 22, 2021

The Honorable Antony Blinken
Secretary of State
U.S. Department of State
Washington, DC 20520

Dear Mr. Secretary:

We represent the sponsors, businesses, and industries that recruit, host, and support international exchange visitors every year. We applaud the recent steps you and the Administration have taken to support international exchange programs. We write with an urgent request that you take additional steps to process exchange visas. Doing so will help protect the programs and the American employers that administer and rely on them.

As you know, exchange visitors support our economy by attending our universities, colleges, and secondary schools, and by helping working families with childcare, summer camps in need of counselors, host businesses in tourist areas, schools that need international teachers, and businesses that wish to provide training and internship experiences. These visitors also support our national security by developing strong ties to and an affinity for the United States. An estimated 6500 jobs and $303M were lost, unfortunately, by these employers and others in related fields last year due to the pandemic. Overall, the BridgeUSA exchange community experienced $1.23 billion in financial fallout in 2020.

International exchange programs, however, continue to be stymied by travel and other restrictions. The Alliance and its members strongly support efforts to protect the health and safety of everyone involved with exchange programs, including consular affairs officers and embassy staff. To help support exchange programs while keeping people safe, we suggest the Department of State take the below additional steps.

We understand that many embassies are still functioning at limited capacity due to COVID-19. The Department is right to pursue creative measures to manage these limitations, while processing visas. As an additional step, we urge you to temporarily waive interviews for all J-1 applicants given the crisis facing international exchange.

The Department is aware of locations where there is a high demand for exchange visas based on past years and where visa applications are currently being filed. We urge you to adopt a strategy whereby the Department provides additional resources to targeted embassies to meet those demands.

The Department should also develop a specific timeline for lifting travel bans and substituting instead a requirement of proof by international travelers of a negative COVID test or of vaccination before coming to the United States. The former is already a requirement.

President Joe Biden has promised that the United States will follow the science when making decisions about COVID-19. The Administration can do that now by lifting blanket travel restrictions in favor of tests and vaccinations. This approach will better reflect the availability abroad of tests and vaccinations, the pace at which Americans are getting vaccinated, and the need to prepare for a reopening very soon of our economy. Until the travel bans are lifted, the Department should except J-1 programs from the bans as it does for F-1 students.

Without immediate intervention, the crisis facing the exchange community will be greatly heightened in the United States and abroad. The Department can help prevent further damage to international exchange programs and the sponsors who administer them by taking the above steps.

Thank you for your consideration and for your strong support of international exchange programs.

Sincerely,

Alliance for International Exchange, Washington, DC
